Dear Mr. Aitken:

Thank you for your inquiry to the Telecommunications Industry Association ("TIA"), requesting reprint permission for the purposes of review and comment on TIA standards

TIA has adopted a policy of making its standards freely available (subject, of course, to third-party intellectual property rights) to counterpart organizations or international organizations in other countries when those organizations propose to reference, add value or incorporate sections of TIA standards. The objective is to avoid duplication of effort and to encourage the use of TIA standards.

Based on the information provided, TIA is pleased to grant copyright permission for review and comment on the following documents

- TIA-1099, "Forward Link Only Air Interface Specification for Terrestrial Mobile Multimedia Multicast"
- TIA-1102, "Minimum Performance Specification for Terrestrial Mobile Multimedia Multicast Forward Link Only Devices"
- TIA-1103, "Minimum Performance Specification for Terrestrial Mobile Multimedia Multicast Forward Link Only Transmitters"
- TIA-1104, "Test Application Protocol for Terrestrial Mobile Multimedia Multicast Forward Link Only Transmitters and Device"
- TIA-1120, "Forward Link Only Transport Specification"

This permission is limited to the reproduction of copies for use in conjunction with efforts of this group. The number of copies to be made is limited to the number of individuals involved in the process of reviewing this document, and these copies may not be resold or redistributed after use. Electronic versions of this document are limited to use by the editors and members of this group.

We request that the following notice be prominently displayed on the front cover of each reprinted copy of the above documents:

COPYRIGHTED MATERIAL

Reproduced and distributed by Flo Forum for standards harmonization use only, under written permission of the copyright holder, Telecommunications Industry Association. Resale or further reproduction in any form is prohibited. This document is still in the draft stage of TIA's standards process and is subject to revision.

To the extent you need reprint permission for future requests, a separate permission is necessary on a case-by-case basis.

Sincerely,

Stephanie Montgomery
Director, Standards & Technology
